

to pay for the housing individually each month in advance, starting with the first week after arrival. The official arrival date and first day of housing is Monday, between May 17 and June 28. The last day of housing is September 15 (or August 31 for the May arrivals). WWCE is to receive your arrival information (flight details) from your home country agency 30 days prior to your arrival. Not providing this information can lead to your job cancelation and program termination. All participants are obligated to pay for the housing until the end date of the contract (September 15, or August 31 for the May Arrivals). Unauthorized early departures are not accepted and will conduct to the program termination and the forfeit of the Housing Deposit. If a participant needs to leave the program for any reason before completion, that participant is still responsible to paying for the housing until September 15 (or August 31, for the May arrivals). The housing package cost may be subject to change, based on market conditions. The participants should bring with them or have access to enough finances in order to support all their expenses during the entire program, and they should not rely only on their paychecks.

Transportation:

The participant is responsible to make it in time for work. Public transportation is available in the area for about $1 per trip. Monthly bus passes are available at the discounted price of $25. Prices may be subject to change based on economic conditions. Public transportation may not be fully reliable and may run different than some participants may expect. There is a strong possibility that WWCE will arrange charter transportation to and/or from work, which in this case will be mandatory for a fee that should not exceed 10% of the participant's weekly minimum gross income. In this case, the charter transportation fee will be deducted from your paychecks as well, for the entire duration of your work contract.

Job Descriptions: Other positions may be available at the time of arrival. Some of the positions listed may not be available at the time of arrival. The participants will be considered for different positions based on the interview performance and the needs of the park at the time of arrival.
